The Bankruptcy of the New York, Cswego and Midland Railway Company-The Case To Be Tried by a Jury.

GEORGE B. GRINNELL & CO-

A Petition in Bankruptcy Filed Against the Company-An Injunction Granted---Action of the Court.

BUSINESS IN THE OTHER COURTS.

Yesterday, in the United States District Court, in the matter of Christian Kolle, a bankrupt, a motion was made on the part of a creditor, who had obtained judgment against the assignee in bankruptcy, to compel the receiver to pay the judgment recovered against the assignee. Judge Biatchford said that such a motion was entirely irregular and ought not to have been made. It was like asking one man to pay the debts of another. The motion was denied.

A motion was made before Judge Blatchford yes terday in the United States Circuit Court by counsel on the part of Mr. Abraham S. Hewitt, receiver of the New York, Oswego and Midland Railway Company, to the effect that Mr. Hewitt's power as such receiver be extended, in order that he may be able to pay the wages of the laborers employed upon the road from January, instead of from June, 1873. Counsel also moved for a modification of the lease of the New Jersey and Midland Railway Company, so as to leave the upper line of the road under the control of the receiver. The trains are now running to this city over the Montclair Railroad. Decision of the Court reserved.

Judge Fancher, in Supreme Court. Chambers, has permitted the receiver of the Hercules Life Insurance Company to institute a friendly suit in which to determine whether the matured policies of the company shall have preference in payment out of the assets. The particulars of the case were published in vesterday's HERALD.

The same Judge yesterday gave a decision in the matter of the New York Floating Dry Dock Company, wherein, as will be remembered, the Harbor Masters assumed a right to remove the dock. In his decision Judge Fancher enjoins the Harbor Masters from removing the dock until the determination of the questions involved by the suit.

Judgment was entered yesterday in the Superior Court for $71,902 43 in favor of Charles Guidot for paving First avenue. A judgment was awarded in June last to the same contractor for $57,373 17 for paving Church street, and one for $58,606 88 for paving South Fifth avenue. An additional expense of $14,129 90 has been entailed on the city by the Comptroller through disputing these claims.

ANOTHER RAILWAY COMPANY IN COURT.

Alleged Bankruptcy-The New York. Oswego and Midland Railway Company-Judicial Action.

As stated in the HERALD some time since, a petition was filed by Messrs. Tillotson & Greely, through their attorneys, Diefendorf & Gedney, praying that the New York, Oswego and Midland Railway Company be declared bankrupt on the ground, as alleged, that the company had for more than fourteen days suspended payment of one of their commercial notes, to the amount of about $2,000, given to Tillotson & Greely. The prayer of this petition was granted by Judge Blatchford, and the order to that effect was made returnable yesterday.

Mr. F. N. Bangs, counsel for the railway com pany, appeared yesterday, and on their behalf put in a general denial of the alleged bankruptcy. He demanded a jury trial to determine the issue. Judge Blatchford ordered that the case be tried by jury.

It is probable that the case will be disposed of in the November term of the Court.

G. B. GRINNELL & CO.

A Petition Filed Against the Company-An Injunction Granted-Action of the

In the matter of George Bird Grinnell and Joseph C. Williams, general partners, and George B. Grinnell, special partner, composing the firm of George Bird Grinnell & Co., a petition for adjudication in bankruptcy has been flied.

The petitioner in this case is Henry Myers, and he prays that the above named parties be adjudicated bankrupts. He alleges that they had guaranteed to him, in writing, by the general partnership of George B. Grinnell & Co., a sum amounting to $3,362 77, with interest from September, 1873 and which sum is for a balance of money owing the petitioner on a purchase and sale of stocks made by the general partnership of G. B. Grinmell & Co., for and on account of the petitioner, between July 14, 1869, and September I, 1873. It is alleged that the firm committed an act of bankruptcy during the money panic in Wall street, when the market price of stocks declined: that they gave to I. M. Hartshorne & Brother 10,000 shares of the Lake Shore Raliroad Company's bonds as collateral security for an indebtedness of G. B. Grinnell & Co. to Hartshorne & Brother, and when that security was inadequate to secure the debt; that they gave a preference to Messrs, Lawrence Brothers, creditors of the limited partnership of G. B. Grinnell & Co., over their other creditors; that they gave $5,000 of the hannibal and Maples Raliroad Company as furtuer security for the indebtedness of the limited partnership, $15,000 in money on account of the indebtedness of the limited partnership, $16,000 in money on account of the indebtedness of the limited partnership to Musgrave & Co., creditors that the gave sinadequate to secure the same. It is further stated in the petition of M. Myers that the depreciation of stocks at this time was so great that the assets of the limited partnership consisted almost entirely of such stocks; that Grinnell & Co. were, in point of fact, at this time, insolvent; and that they have ever since been unable to meet their business engagements. The petition makes the further allegation that the limited partnership has outstanding securities hypothecated by them in loans known on the street as "turning loans," but, in fact, a mere device to cover loans on stocks and securities to the amount of many millions of dollars; and that some of the holders thereof have not, as the petition makes the rother allegation that the limited partnership has outstanding securities hypothecated by them in loans known on the street as "turning loans," but, in fact, a mere device to cover loans on stocks and securities to the and which sum is for a balance of money owing the petitioner on a purchase and sale of stocks made cause why the alleged debtors should not be adjudi-cated bankrupts. The order is returnable on the 11th inst.

Confusion to a Cabinet-Making Company. Before Judge Muller.

In April last a suit was brought in this Court to dissolve the cabinet-making company of which E. A. Heath was the manager. Messrs. Theodore P. Austin and James H. Ingersoll brought the action, claiming that, through fraudulent representations as to the company, they had contributed about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars capital to the concern, and that through mismanagement the capital had suffered great depreciation. Judge Muller has just rendered a decision dissolving the company, ordering an accounting and continuing the receivership. Eithu Root for plaintiffs and J. O. Williams for defendant.

SUPERIOR COURT-SPECIAL TERM. The Church War in Harlem. Before Judge Sedgwick.

The particulars of the controversy between two sections of the First Baptist church of Harlem were fully given in the HERALD when the matter was first brought into Court several months since. Judge Sedgwick has decided not to grant the injunction asked for, on the ground that the papers fail to show who are really trustees de facto. He also refuses to interier on the further ground that against the trustees sought to be removed no misconduct had been proven.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

An Assault. Before Judge Sutherland.

The first case disposed of by the jury yesterday was a charge of felonious assault and battery preferred against James Smith by Peter McDonald ferred against James Smith by Feter McDonaid, who swore that on the third of this month he was cut in the neck and in the arm with a small pocket knife. A number of young members of the "Greenwich street coterie" were sworn, and their evidence showed that Smith and McDonaid were on the way to the dock to have a fight when the cutting took place. The prisoner was convicted of an assault and was sent to the Penitentary for one year.

James Lawrence, who was jointly indicted with Henry Peters and Henry Belmont for s'caling, on the 5th of September, six pieces of velveteen, the property of Henry Adler, 56 Leonard street, was convicted. TOMBS POLICE COURT.

Before Judge Dowling. Business in this Court has been very much em barrassed of late for want of the necessary blanks and other stationery. It seems that the Street Department, on which requisition has to be made, cannot get any stationer to supply them, the difficulty being that the stationers despair of ever getting paid by the Comptroller. Judge Dowling, as also the other Police Justices, declare that they will very soon have to suspend business altogether, and in fact, as far as the Tombs Police Court is concerned, it will be soon an absolute necessity. Burgiary in Warren Street.

About four o'clock Wednesday afternoon John Sherman, of No. 80 Warren street, saw two men come from the upper floor of the building with a quantity of shoes in their hands. He followed them for a block and put them in the hands of Officer Warner, who took the two men to the Third precinct station house, where they gave their names as Michael Wilson and John Lapham. It was subsequently discovered that a loft, occupied by Meyer Stock, on the top floor of No. 80 Warren street, had been burglariously entered and the shoes found with the prisoners taken therefrom. They were arraigned before Judge Dowling yesterday, and held in $5,000 ball each to answer.

JEFFERSON MARKET POLICE COURT.

An Attempt to Swindle a Delegate to Utica-A Providential Detention.

Mr. Timothy Shea, oysterman at the foot of Christopher street, was recently elected a delegate to the Democratic Convention at Utica by the Apollo Hall democracy. Mr. Shea made the requi site preparations for his trip to Utica, and an nounced his intended departure to his bookkeeper, Mr. Charles A. Reeve, and in prosecution of his design left his place of business. Soon after, and on September 29, Mr. Reeve received a telegram purporting to come from Mr. Shea at Utica, and stating that he had, before his departure, purchased of Messrs. Quimby & Co., jewellers on Broadway, some diamond jewelry, and requesting his bookkeeper to pay the bill, amounting to something less than $500, if it should be sent to him. Mr. Shea was somehow detained, and did not go to Utica at the time he intended. Returning to his office he was shown the telegram and at once pronounced it a forgery and expressed much surprise, as he had not been out of the city. Further developments were awaited, and soon after a man, named William Melody, appeared and presented a bill for $480 86, on a blank of Quimby & Co., and purporting to come from that firm. An officer was sent for and he was arrested. He was taken before the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, where he stated that he resided in Albany. Mr. Quimby denied sending any such bill, and the prisoner was committed to answer. nounced his intended departure to his bookkeeper, ette Meyers, who is held as a witness at the Kings County Jail, where she may be readily found when wanted by the District Attorney to give testimony in the Goodrich murder case. Mrs. Mevers' appear ance at the jail was most unwelcome for Kate Stoddard, masmuch as it led to the dispossession of the latter, who has been occupying the witness' room. Lucette was given the apartment in question, and Miss Stoddard has been transferred to the corridor occupied by Mrs. Merrigan, the alleged murderess of Miss Margaret Hammill. In answer to a series of questions touching her case, Mrs. Meyers said that she was perfectly astonished when she was arrested on Wednesday last, but she supposed the never had the slightest idea of leaving the city. although she could easily have done so a score of times with perfect safety since the Coroner's in quest had she been so disposed. Mrs. Meyers re marked that she knew very well that the polic had been watching her constantly since her release, but she never had any cause to disappear, as she had been devoting all her time to the business of clearing up the Goodrich murder. She said, "I still persist in the statement that the Spaniard Roscoe and John Henry Beach figured prominently in the tragedy, and I have been endeavoring to secure, if possible, their arrest." She declined to state in what particular manner tness men were mixed up in the murder, on the ground that she was not at liberty to give that information. She had visited the Police Commissioners frequently within the last two months, and had kept them informed as to her movements in pursuit of Beach and Roscoe. Beach was seen five weeks ago, and Lucette is of the opinion he is still in New York. She had just perfected another plan of operation when arrested; but there is another party who will follow up the clew. Want of means all along had interferred with her success in the hunt, and it was all nonsense to say that she was under the pay of the Police Department. Beach wrote the letter to the police in the first place, which caused her arrest, and it was through a feeling of revenge more than anything else, which led her to disclose his name. Beach knows all all about the affair, Mrs. Meyers says, and could clear up the mystery, but he was not the kind of a man to be engaged in the murder. had been watching her constantly since her re-ease, but she never had any cause to disappear.

THE UNIVERSALIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

The attendance at the Universalist Sunday School Teacher's Institute, at the Bleecker street Church, was somewhat larger yesterday than upon the opening of the session. The representation extended all through New England, and Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey sent a full quota. The morning session was opened by a teacher's experience meeting, conducted by Mrs. C. A. Soule. of New York, and more than one hour was occupied of New York, and more than one hour was occupied in the discussion of the best methods of Sunday schoolroom instruction. The Rev. J. W. Keys, of Auburn, than read an essay, entitled "The Sunday School Library." This was followed by an essay from the Rev. M. R. Leonard, of Waitham, Mass., on "The Teacher's Meeting." The Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., of New York, defined the duties and opportunities for good afforded to the superintendeut of the Sunday school. This closed the morning session.

The institute reassembled at two o'clock, and, after prayer by the Rev. Charles Fluhrer, of New York, listened to a very instructive address by the Rev. J. Smith Dodge, of Stamlord, Conn., on the subject:—"flow Children Think." Some very original methods of imparting instruction by the black-board were then explained by the Rev. A. B. Hervey, of Troy, N. Y. The Rev. L. L. Briggs, of Boston, then read an essay entitled "flow shall We Bring Our Scholars Into the Church?" A protracted general discussion as to the various methods for extending the work and usciulness of the Sunday school closed the session.

In the evening the Besche. The institute reassembled at two o'clock, and.

In the evening the Bleecker street church was filled with a large audience, drawn thither to hear the lecture of the Rev. E. C. Boiles, Ph. CUSTOMS SEIZURE.

Petticoats Weighing a Hundred Pounds How a Customs Officer Was Bribed $100 to Pass $6,000 of Smuggled Goods.

Yesterday afternoon Customs Inspector Chapman, at Castle Garden, noticed that one of the steerage passengers, a woman, who was stepping ashore, had a very peculiar and bulky form and embarrassed gait. She was taken by his orders into the female searcher's room, when it was discovered that under her dress was concealed a large amount of jewelry, comprising watches and trinkets. The underciothing, it is alleged, with its appurtenances, weighed upwards of 100 pounds. Her luggage was found to be filled with dutiable goeds, and was accordingly seized. A colleague of hers in the smuggling enverprise was also arrested, and turned out to be ner nephew—viz., Matthew Weidemann, who does business at Philadelphia and is a resident there. The aunt, who also dwells in the City of Brotherly Love, said her name was Catharine Jasper. They offered Customs Officer Chapman a bribe of $100 after their arrest to pass them inside the Castle Garden rotunds. The officer took the money, and, instead of pocketting it, paid it into the Custom House last night. The remount of smuggled goods captured is valued at $6,006. shore, had a very peculiar and bulky form and

TROTTING AT DEERFOOT PARK.

Third Day of the Autumnal Meeting-Good Sport and Fine Weather-Clothes pin the Winner of the Unfinished Race of Wednesday, Everett Ray of the 2:50 Purse and Lydia Thompson of the 2:25

The trotting was good at Deerfoot Park yesterday afternoon, the track being in fine order and the weather delightful "for man and beast." Three trots had to be decided, the first being the unfinished race of Wednesday, and two others; the first for a purse for 2:50 horses, and the other for horses that had never beaten 2:25.

It will be remembered that when darkness closed the game on Wednesday, in the race between Ciothespin, Mystic and Tom, Clothespin had scored two heats, Mystic one, and Tom and Mystic each had made a dead heat with Clothespin. When the horses came on the track yesterday Clothespin seemed in the best plight for a race; but after the race commenced he began plunging and jumping, and before he reached the quarter pole Mystic was several lengths ahead of him. After going half a mile Clothespin became more steady and closed "p finely, carrying Mystic to a break on the homestretch and winning the race cleverly, much to the joy of his backers, who had been taying heavily at five to one on him previous to the start. Mystic won second money, Tom the third premium. A full summary of this event will be found below.

The next event—the first regular trot on the day's programme—was for a purse of $300, for horses that had never beaten 2:50, mile heats, best three in five, in harness. For this there were fourteen entries, and only five starters, the latter comprising M. Pearce's brown mare Wicklow Witch, E. Carpenter's black gealing Black Jim, J. S. Baker's bay mare Guinare, George Wright's bay gelding Phil O'Neil, Jr., and John Murphy's bay gelding Everett Ray. The latter was a great havorte over the field. He won the first heat very easily, Black Jim second, Guinare third. The second heat was also won by Everett Ray, he making a fine effort to distance all the others. He succeeded in placing Guinare and Wicklow Witch behind the dag, all making a gallant run to get inside the flag, but the two only were unsuccessiul. Black Jim was second, Phil O'Neil, Jr., third, after a wonderful run, which was not, fortunately for him, noticed by the judges—the driver remarking after the decision that "he beat the flag that time." The third ful run, which was not, lortunately for him, noticed by the judges—the driver remarking after the decision that "he beat the flag that time." The third heat was won by Everett Ray more easily than any of the others—O'Neil and Black Jim having to do their best to get juside the distance stand. Black Jim was second, Phil o'Neil, Jr., third. Everett Ray is a most promising young horse. He resembles the late Mountain Boy—his half brother—in every respect, size, color and style of trotting, and there is no dount of great improvement in the future.

The third event was for a purse of $600, for horses that had never beaten 2:25, mile heats, best three

A Well-Earned Victory for the Mutuals. The eighth game of the championship series between the Mutual and Athletic clubs was contested on the Union Grounds yesterday afternoon in the presence of about 1,000 spectators. From the first the New Yorkers took the lead and maintained it to the close, coming in the winners by several fine stops at short stop, and got in the finest hit of the day—a long three-baser to the left-centre.

The following is the score:—

Base Ball Notes. To-morrow the Mutual and Philadelphia clubs play on the Union grounds.

The Chelseas play the Nassaus on Prospect Park Parade grounds a total of ten to four runs. Matthews' pitching was altogether too much for the httle difficulty in punishing McBride. During the game some remarkably fine flelding was done by players on each side. A running catch by Gedney of a very long hit ball to left fleld was particularly noteworthy.

The Nameless and Powhattan clubs play on the Prospect Park grounds to-morrow afternoon.

AN ALLEGED DEFAULTING PAYMASTER.

In the case of the United States vs. Henry

Meeker, a bondsman for the late Major W. W.

Sherman, a paymaster of the government during the late war, a special verdict was rendered at Trenton yesterday for the amount of $25,697 42 against defendant, which sum was alleged to be due the plaintiff on July 9, 1866, in consequence of due the plaintiff on July 9, 1866, in consequence of deficit in the accounts of Sherman with the government at that time. A good deal of discussion took place between counsel on both sides in reference to a difference between the statements furnished by Sherman to the Comptroller's Department at Washimgton and those made out at the Auditor's office there. It was contended by the detence that Sherman did not distribute the funds entrusted to his charge to the troops, but that other paymasters in the service at that time were the channels through which the moneys went from his hands. In one of the defendant's reports it was stated that the sum of $24,441 41 was deficient, which would be accounted for in a future statement. The government authorities made the deliciency $25,697 42, which caused a difference in the two statements of $1,256 01. It was on this point the whole controversy centred, and the government also claims interest on its figures from July 9, 1866. Several knotty law points in reference to the matter were reserved for consideration.
